

Raymond D'Attilio

PROVIDENCE — Raymond D'Attilio, 48, of 160 Eighth St., a clinical social worker for the state Corrections Department for seven years, died yesterday at home. He was the husband of Barbara (Puccetti) D'Attilio.

Born in Providence, he was a son of the late Anthony and Cecelia (Silva) D'Attilio.

Mr. D'Attilio was a cum laude graduate of Providence College in 1959, attended Georgetown University Law School and received a master's degree in social work from the University of Syracuse. He was a Korean Army veteran and a member of the Narragansett Salt Water Fishing Club.

Besides his wife he leaves a son, Dean C. D'Attilio of Providence; two daughters, Mrs. Annamaria Vento of Providence, Amy Lia D'Attilio of Chicago, and a brother, Donald D'Attilio of Providence.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 8 a.m. from the Mariani Funeral Home, 200 Hawkins St., with a Mass of Christian Burial at St. Raymond's Church, North Main St., at 9.
